TRANSCRIPT SUMMARY

REMOTE VIEWING (RV) SESSION D-91

1. (S/NOFORN) The remote viewer reported that he perceived three americans (at least) in a large room on the ground floor within the target building. He felt that these three were having a meeting which they had regularly to keep their spirits up. The viewer felt there was one other hostage who did not attend this meeting and was elsewhere in the target building doing some reading.
2. (S/NOFORN) The viewer was unable to recognise or identify any of the hostages he saw. He seemed to have very little visual sensation of the target but did seem to "tune into" the emotional content of the target building. The viewer felt that the hostages he saw were drained of any identity. He felt it was as though they no longer had any individual egos. The viewer also felt that the hostages did not feel any hostility towards their captors. The hostages seemed to have given up all hope.
3. (S/NOFORN) The viewer perceived three guards associated with the target building. Two of these guards were in the room where the hostages were having their meeting. The whereabouts of the other guard was not reported. The guards seemed bored and appeared to be wishing that this affair was over. The guards seemed to be on a "first name basis" with the hostages. No weapons were reported.
4. (S/NOFORN) At one point in the session the viewer thought that the hostages might have inadvertantly received some news (subject unknown) which made them excited. The emotional state of the hostages concerning this news was described as excited but not daring to be hopefull.

TARGET CUING INFORMATION

REMOTE VIEWING (RV) SESSION D-91

1. (S/NOFORN) This remote viewer has been working on the Iran hostage situation for about a year. He has been exposed to a myriad of information both classified and open source.
2. (S/NOFORN) Prior to the session the viewer was shown overhead imagery of the US Embassy compound in Teheran, Iran. Area "J" was pointed out to the viewer and he was told that this would be his target. He was told that this area was known as the Ambassador's quarters. He was told that it wasn't necessary to spend a great deal of time describing the building; his mission was to determine if there were hostages in the target building.
